

Instructions for Authors for Student Session

Important Notice

The submissions are preliminarily screened for technological and scientific qualities, and selected papers are to be presented by the authors as finalists in the oral student session, whereas the other papers will be included for presentation in general oral / poster sessions.

Special prizes will be awarded to excellent papers presented in the student session based on the jury's evaluation of both the manuscripts and the presentations.

Paper for a paper download web site application or its equivalent

The authors of all sessions are requested to submit a paper manuscript for "a paper download web site application or its equivalent," which will be distributed to regular and student participants without extra fee. The speakers who do not submit the paper will not be allowed to make a presentation. (No paper, No presentation policy)

Please submit a PDF file of the manuscript on-line through Paper Submission Site by Feb 1, 2019. The page layout is described in "Paper Template" which is the same as the paper format of "Transactions of JSASS, Aerospace Technology Japan."
